Extensive Road Building Going On Several Projects Out of Hamlin

Hamlin community laborers are fortunate this early spring in having plenty of public works improvements to take up their time.

There are several road projects out of Hamlin under way now. And every section of this work is accommodating many men. Yet, Mr. reader do not get into your head that there is more work in and around Hamlin than there are men to do it, not at all. While there is plenty of work, there are also plenty of men for every job.

The projects include the Hamlin-Rotan Highway, which is going on now in about two or three sections. Beginning at the Jones County line between Hamlin and the lakes there is a crew of workers building east toward town. They are stopping at the edge of town, and later the work will start on 6th Street and continue on east to Highway No. 4 to join the Stamford end. Further west there is a big lot of Fisher County men grading away in the rough country, making one of the very finest road beds in West Texas. District Engineer Treadway is making this road a model of modern structure. Most of this road will likely be overlaid with caliche this year and later topped.

On Hamlin's southwest the first unit of the Hamlin-McCaulley-Sylvester-Longworth-Sweetwater highway is now under big time construction. Contractor Prater, of Memphis, moved in a few days ago with all kinds of machinery and men and the old California Creek and adjoining banks and trees have been transformed into a new vista. It looks like one of the old fashioned rail road crews opening a trunk line through the wilderness. This section of road is but a little over two miles, to the Fisher County line. Later it is hoped the Highway Commission will authorize another section or all of the road to connect with Sweetwater.

Highway No. 4 (federal 83) through Hamlin is getting about $21,000 worth of widening. This means cutting away the dirt shoulders on either side, and laying about ten feet of caliche base, on which will be placed gravel and then a black topping to increase the width of the road from 22 feet to 25 feet (total 44 feet). Better drainage is also to be secured. This work is now rapidly progressing on the north end of Main Street, beginning at the end of the old paving. It looks like an army up that way and how they do dig that dirt up and cart it away and replace it with the harder material.

Right now there is one other road project that Hamlin people would enjoy seeing completed. It is the 5.6 miles from the Brazos bridge toward Aspermont. Of course that King County stretch will have to be topped before our great highway north through Texas will be done.

BAND CONCERT

The Hamlin High School Band, under the direction of G. C. Collum will give a concert on the street, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Collum also informs us the Hamlin Band is entering the regional contest which will be held in Abilene, April 7 and 8.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. McBride and daughter, Anna Margaret, spent the week end in Oklahoma visiting relatives.

WHAT IS DOING ON THE NEW LAKE

The Herald has promised to keep the public informed on the progress of the New Water Project for Hamlin. We have been quiet for several weeks, while the City Council has labored almost day and night getting everything done that the Federal Government has demanded.

It now seems there is but little left to be done in getting all of the lands that the new lake will cover in its highest flood time. Only one or two tracks of lands needed was necessary to go through the condemnation proceedings. That is causing some delay.

However considerable work has already been done. A few men have been working several days clearing the main lake grounds of mesquite trees and other material.

Since the clearing it is becoming more evident where the lake will be and its extent. Look in this issue and you will see that the State Water Engineers are giving notice and that 1900 acres of land are to be covered. This means flood stage, and this will be cut down considerable in normal times. Let your imagination dwell, however on several hundred of acres of water some day. It will be surprising how much water will be impounded. Don't worry about filling up this area with silt. It will some day fill in but folks of this and maybe several other generations will never see that situation. Should it ever fill up, our smart grandchildren, about a hundred years from now or longer will clean it out with all ease and make a bigger thing than we simple people are making. Maybe! Anyway our new water supply should be ready by next spring to catch that good grade of water. Don't worry about oil hurting that water either. There is likely to be plenty of oil but in this day and time oil is controlled, even in mid-lake.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45. Preaching at eleven. Subject, The Nation's Headache, and Its Cure. At the evening hour, 7:30, Dr. Frank L. Turner, the new president of McMurry College, will preach. Dr. Turner is a very interesting and attractive speaker. It is a treat to hear him. Let each one be present at all our services. We sincerely believe that the church has a message for us. We also believe we each need that message. We also believe you want to do that which will make the community a better place in which your children can live and develop character. Let us put the church first in our lives. If you are not attending church services elsewhere we earnestly urge you to worship with us. Sincerely, H. W. HANKS, Pastor.

Marvin York arrived home late Thursday from Baylor University with his degree in Business Administration. He finished in a little less time than the four years.

J. B. TERRELL MAKES A MODERN STORE

One of the busiest busy places lately in Hamlin is at the Terrell Grocery. J. B. Terrell is one Hamlin man NOT asleep. He may look dreamy and even lazy but that is, NOT J. B. at all. He says this is a world of change and "By heck" he is not going to be caught napping on his job.

So to make a long story what it should be let us tell you that lately J. B. has been as busy as a hunting dog "fixin' up" and it means a new-looking store room too. All J. B. needs now is that "Air Conditioning." Don't need it now, but later on to have cool, calm air in which to pick your groceries will mean much, and don't be surprised if J. B. gets it. But to the story. You see, in the first place, J. B. needed a lot more room and since he has such a long house there is plenty of room in the back. So he pushed the partition back and while doing that he remodeled his Market, and arranged it for better display, better light, and more comfort, and privacy. Then along with that he dolled the ceilings and walls out in white, arranged basket "runs" and center-racks for many kinds of goods, for convenience and display. J. B. Terrell is a growing young business man, and by-the-way there is a young son, J. B. Jr. Maybe a lot of credit should go to him too. But back of all this we let you in on a secret... there is Mrs. Terrell, whose cordiality and courtesy makes a customer want to buy. And say, what's a store without a woman, anyway? Yep, to pass this improving store is a pleasure, but J. B. says, to come in is better. Keep an eye on this store, for there are two others in there who don't make much fuss, but they are having a lot to do with the improvement... that young fellow, Jess Bond, and the meat man, Jim Evatt, both of them believe in good things to eat.

WITT JEWELRY TO LARGER HOUSE

A move is a move, and Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Witt will verify that. They moved the past week into the building formerly occupied by Sam Adkins Grocery. Just a few feet of moving, but almost as much trouble as if they had gone a mile.

They have been exceedingly busy arranging their stock and making extra window room and shelving. They have all kinds of space for expansion now, and in time will present many additional features and services.

HIGH SCHOOL P.T. A

PROGRAM ON FOOTBALL

What do you know about football? Does it train for good character? Is it injurious to a boy's health? Is foot ball important enough to the school and town to give it first place in high school education? Who is most benefitted by our high school foot ball team? Do you want your boy to play foot ball? Why? Is our physical education department adequately meeting the needs of all the pupils?

Coach Marcus Smith will answer these and any other questions parents may care to ask at the High School Parent-Teacher Association two weeks now, Thursday, March 23 at 3:45 P. M. Mark the date on your calendar now.

Elementary parents are also invited. Further notice next week.

Jimmie Lasseter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lasseter, has been in Three Rivers, Texas since last December working. His mother is sending Jimmie the Herald so he can know a little about his old Hamlin town.

Mrs. O. L. Jenkins returned from Eustace, Texas, Friday where she has been with her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Norris. She reports a new nine-pound granddaughter, Patricia Lou, born the seventeenth of February.

With extensive oil operations in the Avoca Pool and a number of wildcats going down and coming in as producers in various sections of the county, there is ample grounds for increasing interest in oil these days.

This week the eyes of all have been riveted on two wildcat wells in the western and north part of Jones County. We refer to the Gregg Oil Co. No. 1 E. D. Apling, which is in new territory in the Sunnyside community this side of Stamford. This well is the third to be drilled in that immediate community. The first was the Kinney well near by the Stamford-Anson road, and proved dry. The other was farther west, near Sunnyside, which produced what they called "dead" oil in small quantity. Now the Apling well is about half mile west of that and at 2630 feet has been heading and spouting out like a real old timer. It looks as if there is a pool somewhere southeast of Tuxedo.

NEINDA WELL HAS OIL

Last week we suggested that there may be a "Neinda Pool." The Ralph R. Carrol No. 1 Herndon wildcat reached 2650 and a fine showing of oil was found. This well is northeast of Boyds Chapel, about one mile north of Highway No. 16. Crowds have been on hand all week anxious to see the outcome of about 8,000 or 9,000 gallons of acid treatment. It is a fact a good grade of oil has been located but the amount is yet a question. Perhaps the well will be a small pumper, and there will be extensive drilling in that area soon.

It will not be long now till something will be heard of the wildcat well going down on the Martin Ranch 12 or 15 miles northwest of Hamlin.

Considerable interest is heard about the Carlile Pool near Peacock in Stonewall County. That county is due for a big lot of oil play this year. Between Hamlin and Aspermont more drilling is sure to be done.

Rennard Waggoner and wife of Monahans were here from Tuesday night till Friday visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Waggoner.

SCRAP IRON

About two or three years ago sometime before Japan began ravishing old China, you will recall how about Hamlin every little boy and many men searched every nook and corner for bits of iron—old discarded metal of every description . . . since then much of that Texas scrap iron has been hurled down from airplanes upon the helpless homes of old men and women and innocent children . . . then is it so strange last week that hundreds of Chinese men, women and children began picketing a huge dump of scrap iron at a port on the Pacific as a Greek steamer floated empty nearby to take it to Japan to kill more helpless Chinese? American people should admire the sympathy of the longshoremen in their determination not to load that iron while a pleading people stand day and night looking on a further shipment of war material . . . China can't understand.

ANNOUNCEMENT

E. S. RUSSELL, FORMER CITIZEN DIED IN CALIFORNIA

Information came to Mrs. Pribble Friday morning of last week that her father, E. S. Russell, had died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. H. Robertson, in Brea, California. Mr. Russell had been in failing health and was found dead about 6:30 A. M. Friday, March 3.

The deceased was 77 years, 5 months and 15 days of age.

He was born in Polk County, Ark. September 18, 1861, and grew to manhood in that state, and came to Texas, first settling in Denton County, and later came to the southern part of Jones County. Previous to his going to California, he and his family lived in Fisher County, near McCaulley.

Mr. Russell is survived by nine children. The companion passed away in January 1929. The children are: Mrs. D. H. Robertson, Brea, Calif.; Mrs. L. B. Pribble, Hamlin; Claud Russell, Royston; Fred Russell and Mrs. C. H. Jackson of Gran Quivira, New Mex.; Mrs. L. H. Stewart, Mountainair, New Mex.; Sten-nie Russell, Bingham, New Mex.; and Turner Russell and Mrs. J. E. Coy of Fallon, Nev. All of the children were able to come for the funeral except those living in Nevada.

Funeral services were conducted at the Church of Christ, Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Minister Omer Strickland, of Graham, Texas, a cousin of the deceased, was the principal speaker. He was assisted by Rev. Marvin Fisher, pastor of the M. E. Church at Bomerton, a young man who had become a close friend of Mr. Russell. Minister Strickland paid a most unusual tribute to the life of the deceased and it was with great difficulty that he talked, owing to his close relationship and also having been ill for several days.

Numerous old time friends were present for the last rites, and the following from a distance were present: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roberson and son, Clifford, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Roberson of Vera, Texas; Iris and Foy Pribble, of Hobbs, New Mex.; and Merl and Marvin Russell of Eunice New Mex.; J. J. Pribble and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lilly of Merkel, and Mr. and Mrs. Brunt Russell of Munday.

The body was in charge of the Barrow Company and interment was in East Cemetery.

Misses Marie and Beatrice Fizer of Wichita Falls spent the past week end in Hamlin with their mother, Mrs. Maude Fizer, who has been here several weeks repairing her residence on Alamo Avenue. She will likely spend much of her future time in Hamlin where her old time neighbors and friends live.

1939 FRIGIDAIRE'S AT W. TEXAS UTILITIES

The general public is urged to attend the premier showing of 1939 model Frigidaires at the West Texas Utilities Company, opening Monday, March 13, and lasting through Tuesday, according to Mac Brundage, local manager, who said the display rooms had been arranged to take care of hundreds of visitors.

Women no longer need to cover cooked foods placed in the refrigerator, according to B. M. Brundage, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, who said an outstanding scientific and engineering improvement had been added to the 1939 Frigidaire which will be introduced to the public here at a "premiere showing" scheduled on March 13-14.

The new 1939 "Cold-Wall" model Frigidaire represents a unique application of a scientific principle, provides uniform low temperatures, very high humidity, and eliminates moisture-robbing air circulation.

"These three important factors have been added without adding a single moving part to the mechanism," Mr. Brundage said. "Foods are kept naturally moist and vitally fresh longer than ever before, and without a cover of any kind, because these three factors are utilized in combination."

With the "Cold-Wall" model comes the first radical change in basic design since the first electric household refrigerator was placed on the market, he pointed out.

"Actually," he declared, "cold walls of the cabinet play a dominating part in the protection of foods. The lower half of the cabinet is cooled by concealed coils within three walls of the refrigerator. The upper portion is separated from the lower portion by a solid glass shelf. In this upper section, cold air is permitted to circulate from a standard freezer unit. This, scientists say, is best for foods placed in containers or those not affected by air circulation. By means of this unit, ice cubes, desserts and cold storage facilities are retained.

A SUB-DEB ORGANIZATION

Here's good news. The girls of Hamlin High School have quit loafing. We have organized a sub-deb club that is really going to town in popularity. It has been organized two weeks. Yet it has been heard and talked of all over Hamlin and the neighboring towns. The purpose of this club is to create friendship and to have a good time. At the first meeting there were five girls present. Out of the five, officers were elected. They are as follows:

Maxine Brundage, president; Marion Martin, secretary-treasurer; Charlotte Dillingham, reporter.

From the five who have organized the club, there are now fifteen members. They are: Maxine Brundage, Hazel Adkins, Hope Cade, Mignon Waggoner, Florine Morgan, Helen McCoy, Eva Louise Fowler, Melvina Bullard, Marguerite Nobles, Anita Anderson, Effie Lois McCoy, Mary Murrell Woodward, Anna Mae Calhoun, Marian Martin, and Charlotte Dillingham.

For a sponsor and director we have asked Miss Doris Pope. She has already given us some very helpful hints and we expect to be one of the organizations that will help our town and school. Wish us luck, because you'll be hearing more from this club. Oh, yes, we are called G. A. Y. S. So watch our banners fly. —Reporter.

Mrs. N. E. Stewart called at the Herald office Monday and had the Hamlin Herald sent to her daughter, Miss Mary Stewart, who is now employed in Orianda, California. Miss Stewart will likely remain in California for several months and each week the Herald will be a welcome visitor to her.

Mrs. Jodie Creel who fell while skating, last Saturday and broke a leg is reported to be recovering nicely. Mrs. Creel, in company with some other ladies, had gone to the rink Saturday morning to skate, and in some way she slipped and fell, causing the serious and painful injury. Just accidents in life that cannot be explained.

Swenson & Peacock Senior Classes Made Educational Inspections In Hamlin

Education by actual observation is a good way to gain knowledge. Hamlin was the "laboratory" for inspection last Thursday by two Stonewall County schools: Swenson and Peacock Seniors numbering about twenty-eight, including their sponsors, were met at the office of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce, early that morning, and a committee, headed by Kurt Schoemann and Eddie Jay, became guides into the various plants and enterprises about Hamlin.

The tour began by a minute inspection of the Eddie Jay Bakery. Here they were shown the process of making a good loaf of bread from the flour to the place of serving. Many elderly persons have never had that opportunity. The young people were shown the latest inventions and methods of bread-baking. They came away with a firm conviction that Eddie Jay has one of the most complete baking plants in this country, and really after seeing and smelling, and tasting, they became extra hungry. Eddie took care of that problem, and how.

The classes spent several hours at the Texas Cement Plaster Mills, and had an opportunity to see how gypsum is taken from the natural dirt beds and converted into building materials of many kinds.

After the Gypsum Plant inspection, they visited the Hamlin Cotton Oil Mill, and gained first hand information as to how the commonplace thing like cotton seed yields valuable oil, cake, meal, hulls, and bales of cotton. Here again they saw a concrete illustration that all about them are products of great value, that can be converted into useful material by machinery.

Near by the Cotton Oil Mill is the Western Compress & Storage Company plant. These young people were astonished to see great rows of warehouses filled with thousands of bales of cotton. They saw the great wharfs and sheds full of cotton and then the ponderous machinery where the high density bale is formed when the compression takes place. The compress too was an eye-opener to these boys and girls.

Everybody has heard of Hamlin's Great Chick Factory. The young people of the two Stonewall County schools had heard that it was the biggest in Texas and now they believe it. They saw the great batteries of hatching units warming out chicks by the thousands. They see how many eggs it takes from their own county to supply the trays. They saw the modern method of delivery by "pullman" right to the door of the poultry raiser.

The inspections had to end at 5:30 P. M. when they were to be the honor guests of Hamlin business men at the Morgan Hotel. Here a total of 64 plates were served till 6:30 when the classes were escorted to the Ferguson Theatre where they were honored by Mrs. Ferguson with a complete FREE program during the evening. Many of these boys and girls had been customers of the theatre before and had known of its beauty and comfort as well as of the high grade of pictures. But now that they were to enjoy a complete free show, it was all the more pleasing. Visitors for the first time into this theatre especially enjoy the lighting effects, and deeply upholstered seats and the general refinement that pervades the place.

The show over, these classes began their return home, with their minds filled with figures and facts and scenes that could never be gotten from books. They must have slumbered in dreamland that night and awoke with a new energy and a grateful heart for the courtesies shown "down at Hamlin." Yes, sir, Kurt and Eddie proved first class escorts. Come again young folks.
